ACCESS

Community Health & Research Center

Since its inception in 1989, the ACCESS Community Health program has become the largest and most comprehensive Arab community-based health and mental health center in North America. When the ACCESS Community Health and Research Center officially opened the doors to its new facility in 2003, it became the first of its kind nationwide—a fully integrated community health ‘one-stop service’ center that is comprised of medical, public health and research, mental health, and environment programs. The founding philosophy maintains that health promotion and disease prevention activities are the most humane and effective ways to ensure the health and well-being of the community-at-large.

Central to its mission statement is the provision of public health initiatives and the pursuit of research that focuses on the health needs of Arab populations locally and elsewhere. In addition, the center serves as a training site for residents, nurses, and public health professionals in collaboration with the University of Michigan School of Public Health and Wayne State University Schools of Medicine, Pharmacy and Nursing. The Wayne County Health Department’s Women, Infants & Children (WIC) program continues to experience significant growth.

HISTORY

The ACCESS Community Health & Research Center participates nationally and internationally in collaborative research programs and forums. Our goal is to continue to gather and disseminate the fundamental, rare minority health information that is needed for Metro Detroit's Arab/Chaldean community. This research, along with activities and events we develop in collaboration with our partners, is intended to improve healthcare programming for minority populations nationwide and to raise public awareness about the health issues and disparities in our community.

The Conference on Health Issues in Arab Communities has been a crucial medium of collecting and publishing health data that is pertinent to Arab Americans. We have co-authored over 100 publications in the fields of behavior and epidemiological research, including the ethnicity and disease special supplements on Arab American health in "Introduction: Proceedings of the 4th Biennial National Conference on Health Issues in the Arab-American Community" (Ethnicity & Disease, Vol. 1501, Supplement 3, February 2005, S1-VII). In 2010, the proceedings of the 5th National Conference on Health Issues in the Arab American Community were compiled and published in the newly established journal ACCESS Health.

PROGRAM GOALS & OBJECTIVES

IMPROVE healthcare programming for minority populations nationwide by gathering and disseminating the fundamental minority health information

ENHANCE understanding of non-Arab participants of cultural and social factors that influence health-related behaviors and decision-making among Arab populations

ESTABLISH links between scholars in the Arab World and their counterparts in countries with Arab immigrants, thereby enhancing the understanding of disease patterns and epidemiology

IDENTIFY barriers to and solutions for effective health promotion and disease prevention among Arab and other immigrant communities

CREATE collaborative initiatives for improving management of chronic diseases in Arab populations across the world

The ACCESS Health Clinic is the largest Arab American community-based, one-stop medical facility in the United States. It provides a comprehensive range of services to the community-at-large and to Arab Americans, in particular.

We accept all form of insurance; for the uninsured, charges are based on a sliding scale fee schedule, making it affordable for everyone, regardless of financial circumstances.

MEDICAL SERVICES

PRIMARY CARE: Traditional internal medicine and family medicine services include standard physical examinations, periodic check-ups, immunizations, pap smears, breast examinations, and family counseling.

SPECIALTY CARE: Obstetrics and gynecology services are provided in partnership with Henry Ford Health System, General Surgery and Oncology.

SUPPORT SERVICES

- Pharmacy, located on premises
- Complete laboratory services, provided in partnership with DMC University Lab
- Radiology (pending), to provide conventional diagnostic X-Ray exams, mammography and ultrasound.

Breast & Cervical Cancer Control Program (BCCCP)

This program conducts research and measures accurate levels of awareness of Arab American women in the areas of prevention, detection, and intervention of breast and cervical cancers. This program relies on home visits to provide one-on-one counseling, referrals, support, and follow-up.

Goals

The primary goal of the program is to increase the utilization of cancer education, prevention, and screening services of Arab American women by bridging the gaps between cultural needs/norms and local area health services.

- Provide information, mammograms, pap smears, and other health screenings to Arab women
- Provide necessary health referrals based on information obtained during a typical home visit
- Provide services and/or cultural assistance with services for the prevention and treatment of breast and cervical cancer

Services

- Conduct individual home visits with Arab American women at risk of cancer

Target Clientele

Low income and/or non-insured women who are 40 years old or older

Child & Adolescents Health Center (CAHC)

The CAHC promotes health and health education programs for adolescents and parents by maintaining consistent outreach efforts in the community through local school systems. We involve adolescents and parents in planning and promoting overall family health.

Goals

- Provide health promotion and education programs for adolescents, parents, and professionals through direct community outreach
- Continue to successfully strengthen relationships with schools, health facilities, other community centers, and youth serving agencies
- Classroom Educational Services
- Parenting Curriculum (6-8 sessions)
- Anti-Bullying Curriculum (6 sessions)
- Problem ID & Referral, classifying those at risk through unhealthy behaviors and assess whether their behavior or health may be reversed through education

Program Assistance

- Health Screening and Medical Services
- Sports/School Physical Examinations
- Immunizations
- Prevention Education Services, targeting youth and young adults

Target Clientele

Children and adolescents from 10-21 years of age from Dearborn and adjacent communities

The Refugee Health Assessment Program (RHAP)

The Refugee Health Assessment Program provides psychosocial and medical assessments to newly arrived refugees from all over the world. In order to successfully complete these assessments, ACCESS works with two local organizations: Lutheran Social Services (LSS) and the Archdiocese of Detroit (AD) in tending to the needs of Detroit area refugees.

Goals

- Offer a comprehensive medical and counseling assessment to each client within the first 90 days of their arrival in the United States
- Refer clients to appropriate specialists whenever follow-up is needed
- Provide appropriate cultural and language services

Components

- Counseling and Mental Health Services through the Psychosocial Rehabilitation Center for Refugees and Victims of Torture
- Collaboration with local agencies to provide medical services to refugees
- Interpretation services, as necessary

Target Clientele

All recent refugees in the tri-county area (Wayne, Macomb, and Oakland)

Women, Infants & Children Program (W.I.C.)

A proven effective healthcare program, WIC helps women and their families to have a healthy start in life. Funded by the USDA through the Michigan Department of Community Health, services include providing a variety of supplemental foods, nutrition counseling, and program referrals based on health screening and need assessment.

Goals

- WIC helps improve pregnancy outcome
- Reduces infant mortality
- Significantly reduce anemia among preschool children

Components

- Nutritional education and counseling, tailored to the individual client's needs
- Breast-feeding promotion up to 1 year of age
- Screening for health problems
- Healthy weight in pregnancy and for children
- Assessing and promoting childhood immunizations
- Parenting skills
- Referrals to appropriate health and social services

Target Clientele

Respecting the dignity and diversity of those that ACCESS WIC serves, the staff includes professional, experienced, and multi-cultural personnel who are sensitive to the needs of women and their families from Wayne County.

ACCESS

Community Health &
Research Center

The Public Health Division of the ACCESS Community Health & Research Center offers a range of educational programs that focus on disease prevention and health promotion. Our philosophy is based on the premise that health promotion and disease prevention activities are the most effective ways to ensure the health and well-being of the community-at-large.

PUBLIC HEALTH

The Healthy Kids Project (HKP)

The Healthy Kids Project (HKP) is a family-based health promotion program funded through support from local foundations.

Goals

- Developing stronger nutritional, physical activity, environmental and mental health lifestyle habits among 5-10 year-old Arab American youth

Components

HKP engages the community through:

- Home visits, holistic health promotion curricula, anti-

bullying curricula, educational presentations, hands-on workshops, community gardening, and other related physical activity opportunities

- Parents are highly encouraged, and sometimes required, to participate in various HKP activities, thereby modeling for our youth the importance of practicing healthy habits through a lifetime

Target Clientele

5-10 year old Arab American youth

Environment Program

The ACCESS Environmental Program promotes the right of every person to live in a clean, safe, and healthy environment. We engage community members in outdoor programs, i.e., community gardening to promote positive connections with and build stewardship for our environment.

Goals

- Building and sustaining a stronger, more diverse environmental movement across Michigan
- Partnerships with neighboring communities, organizations, and research projects

- The impact on these concerns on health
- Academic and career opportunities related to environmental health and justice
- Leadership development, particularly among youth and young adults

Components

The program aims to improve environmental quality for Southeastern Michigan by promoting education and awareness of:

- Environmental issues of concern to our Arab communities

- Advocacy at the local, county, and state levels

Target Clientele

Youth and young adults in metropolitan Detroit

HIV/AIDS & STD Prevention Program

The HIV/AIDS and STD Prevention Program provides high quality, scientifically proven behavioral change interventions to clients at high risk for contracting HIV. This program has a client-centered approach, paying attention to social and cultural factors affecting our clients. Our service providers are experts at providing culturally and linguistically appropriate programming to the diverse community we serve.

Goals

ACCESS' goal is to ensure that persons at increased risk for HIV and HIV-infected persons:

- Have access to HIV testing to promote early knowledge of their HIV status
- Receive high-quality HIV prevention counseling to reduce their risk for transmitting or acquiring HIV

- Have access to appropriate medical, preventive, and psychosocial support services
- Immediately link people to continuous and coordinated quality care when they are diagnosed with HIV
- Promote a more holistic approach to health that addresses not only HIV prevention, but also the prevention of HIV related co-morbidities, such as STDs and hepatitis B and C.

Components

- HIV testing & STD testing
- Hepatitis A & B vaccines
- Promoting early knowledge of HIV status through HIV testing
- Treatment of HIV/AIDS at the Community Health and Research Center Clinic made possible by federal Ryan White Care Act funds
- Ensuring that all persons that are receiving HIV testing are provided information regarding transmission, prevention, and the meaning of HIV test results
